

VERTICAL PRAISE

PRESS

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Vertical Praise's "That's My King" Takes Radio by Storm!

NORTH GARDEN, Va. – Vertical Praise, an up and coming talent in Southern Gospel, is excited to announce that their latest single is now charting on several industry charts.

The song, "That's My King," was written by award-winning songwriter Rebecca J. Peck with Phil Barfoot. The song is currently sitting at #38 on the SoGospelNews.com Top 40 Weekly Chart, the industry's most respected weekly chart.

In addition, the song debuted at #91 on the July 2009 issue of the Gospel Music News Top 100 and #100 on the PowerSource Magazine Southern Gospel Top 100 chart.

The song has also been a regular fixture on the GospelMusicTimes.com Top 100 Fan Chart – this week appearing at #12 on the only 100% fan based chart in the industry.

"This is such a fun song to sing in concert," said Eddie Carden of Vertical Praise. "We are so excited that radio has gotten behind the song. We appreciate the way that they have supported our ministry through all these years.

"That's My King" is the debut single from Vertical Praise's third release, Grace Through Faith. That recording was produced by Donna M. Beauvais for Vertical Sky Productions.

"That's My King" can be found on the Daywind Radio Disc 75, cut #10.

For more information on Vertical Praise, please visit <http://verticalpraise.com>. Fans are encouraged to visit the group's MySpace at <http://myspace.com/verticalpraisemusic>.

About Vertical Praise

Vertical Praise is based out of North Garden, Virginia. The group was established in the spring of 2001 and was focused on regional ministry for many years. God began opening doors around the community for Vertical Praise to minister. The members of Vertical Praise are the first to tell you that all the praise, honor and glory goes to the Lord. All praise goes vertical! Members include Tony Hensley and Eddie & Holly Carden.

###